

EXPO S-20e Section 5. The Essay (CRN: 31698)

Brett Flehinger PhD, Assistant Professor of History, Cal State University

Students read essays that highlight this literary form's variety and richness. They write analytical essays that focus on technique and the way other writers use language. Through sequenced assignments, students learn to transform their own experiences, observations, and thoughts into evidence.