

GOVT S-1900. American Foreign Policy (CRN: 30164)

Jeremy Pressman PhD, Post-Doctoral Fellow, International Security Program, Belfer Center for Science and International Affairs, Kennedy School of Government, Harvard University

This course covers major trends, problems, and decisions in American foreign policy from 1945 to the present: the origins and demise of the cold war; evolution of US national security policy; military intervention during and after the cold war; human rights issues and democracy; US policies toward Europe, East Asia, Africa, and Latin America; and post-cold war challenges and responses. Special topics include the Korean, Vietnam, Gulf, Balkans, and Afghanistan Wars, and US relations with Japan and China.
